VOL. XXXV.

ELEVEN PROS, FIVE ANTIS AND AN UNKNOWN ASK FOR EXTENSION OF TIME

Judge Maloney Feels That Under the Ruling of the Attorney General and His Own Pronouncement There is No Other Course to Pursue Except to Go Ahead With the Publication.

B. Kaczer presented to County Judge Maloney last evening the petition of which mention was made in The Eagle yesterday. The petition and the statement of Judge Maloney in reply thereto are given below.

To the Honorable J. T. Maloney, county Judge, Brazos county, Texas: We, the undersigned citizens of Brazos county, Texas, would respectfully request that you delay the publication of the order putting prohibition into effect for a period of time that will put it into effect on January 1st, 1918, on account of the unusual conditions in the way of large stocks on hand of the saloon men and the additional high government tax imposed upon them would call for as much leniency as you can consistently give in this matter.

A. W. Wilkerson, E. W. Crenshaw, Sam B. Wilson, Wilson Bradley, J. Webb Howell, H. O. Boatwright, L. L. McInnis, W. B. Taliaferro, Jno. M. Lawrence, Jno. A. Moore, Jr., R. W. Howell, John K. Parker, W. S. Howell, J. D. Martin, M. H. James, Jordan T. Lawler, J. S. Mooring.

The signers are recognized as eleven pros, five antis and one unknown. When asked what he intended or expected to do with the petition Judge Maloney replied:

"What is there for me to do, in view of what the attorney general said and in view of what I said?" He remarked that he was in the mood to make a reply to the petition, and when asked this afternoon if he had the reply ready said he would have it prepared for publication tomorrow.

The judge is preparing the notice for publication.

News from Waco this morning is to the effect that the county expects the court to canvass the vote on the eleventh day, October 31, and he will begin publication November 4, thus closing the saloons at 9:30 p. m. December 1. Strictly within the legal limit, no more and no less. The same thing was done in Dallas. There the liquor houses closed out their stocks in quick time, and it is expected that they will be able to do so in Waco. The only argument for delay here is that drought conditions have left the saloon men with a larger stock than they would ordinarily have had and this has been subjected to a tremendous war tax, also unexpected, the combined conditions making sales slow. However, this war tax hit the Waco saloon men and a part of the stocks of the Dallas men, although these latter had pretty well closed out before the tax became effective. The ruling of the attorney general makes the condition unfortunate for these men, but that stands until a higher authority passes upon it, in the view of Judge Maloney, notwithstanding that a good many people have a notion that the judge has discretion in the matter.

Prices as they change will be published daily, and from time to time as the price committee can agree on prices other staple articles will be added to the list. The prices the retailer should pay the wholesaler also will be published so that the consumer may know what the committee considers a fair profit for the retailer. The prices fixed today as fair averages are about what are being asked by representative grocers in Chicago. The prices fixed for flour in quarter-barrel sacks is from $2.95 to $3.18, for which retailers recently have been asking $3.15; for one-eighth-barrel sacks the price was fixed at $1.49 to $1.60, as against $1.59 asked by the retailer. Five-pound sacks were listed by the food administrator at 36c to 37c, and retailers were quoting it at 35c. Potatoes jumped in price overnight, and were quoted by the food administrator at 43c to 46c a peck, while the grocers were selling them at 40c to 43c. Sugar prices were fixed at 7 3/4c to 8 1/2c a pound, while dealers were asking 9 1/2c and 10c.

PROHIBITION TO BE PUT INTO EFFECT NOW

Decision of County Judge After Receiving a Ruling of the Attorney General Who Said Commissioners Court Could Not Fix the Date.

From Monday's Daily Eagle Prohibition in Brazos county will go into effect forthwith after publication of the order of the county commissioners court, which is to begin immediately. County Judge Maloney has reached this decision after studying the law and the authorities and consulting the attorney general of Texas by telephone. The attorney general told him the commissioners court had no authority to set a date and that he must forthwith, after the passing of the order, make publication. He informed the mass meeting of the prohibitionists, held at 9 o'clock this morning in Carnegie library hall, that he would publish the order, and after the meeting, made the following statement for publication:

"After the meeting of the court Friday morning to canvass the returns, counsel for the antis and pros made arguments to the court as to the law, and the county attorney, having advised the court, the order was passed as made, setting the date for closing the saloons, July 1. After adjournment the question of the court's rights to direct the judge as to date of publication was questioned, and I made diligent search for the law governing. This morning, at 9:30 I called up the attorney general's department and after stating the action of the court was advised as follows:

"The commissioners court canvassed the returns and if a majority is for prohibition to immediately enter an order declaring the result and absolutely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors, and that they were not authorized to add to or take from this order that under another statute the county judge shall forthwith publish the order of the commissioners court in some paper published in the county for four successive weeks."

"Propounding the question in various forms, the attorney general said: 'There could be no other construction of the law, and to do otherwise would be violative of the law.' With the difference of opinion between local lawyers and the positive statement of the highest advisory authority in the state, I felt that if I did otherwise than publish the order I would be recanting in the discharge of my public duty. I wish to be candid with all, and if I could have found any reasonable legal excuse I would have delayed publication. I had truly hoped that the factions in Brazos county would compromise this matter between themselves and jointly ask the court for a reasonable delay of this publication."

Much indignation was expressed by the pros Friday and Saturday over the action of the commissioners court, and on Sunday the preachers took it up. Rev. Solomon of the Methodist church was particularly indignant and in statements preceding and following his sermon Sunday morning, stated in clear and forcible language that it was an outrage but that the representatives of the saloon men were equally as culpable as the saloon men themselves in endeavoring to override the will of the people.

He and other pastors Sunday night announced from their pulpits that the mass meeting would be held this morning and members of the prohibition committees telephoned their chief adherents in the several precincts of the county to be on hand. As a result some sixty or seventy-five men from all parts of the county were present, most of them being very promptly there at the minute.

J. L. Edge called the meeting to order and asked Dr. M. E. Weaver to offer a prayer, which was for the success of the undertaking under God's direction. Prof. J. H. Allen stated that the object of this meeting was to get a conference of the prohibitionists of this county on a course to pursue to get action. He outlined the results of the election and the action of the commissioners court: "Now an attempt has been made to override the will of

Central-Buchanan Case is Compromised

The case of C. A. Buchanan against the Houston and Texas Central Railroad for possession of a certain parcel of land in the city of Bryan, has been compromised in the district court and settled. By terms of the compromise the plaintiff pays the defendant company $250, all the district court costs and half the costs in the appellate court to which the case was taken following a former trial. Buchanan purchased the lot from the city for a consideration of $1,000, taking a quit claim deed for title to same. The land was occupied by the defendant company, who refused to give possession of same and out of the controversy came the suit for possession and title.

The people. What they have done is illegal. They know it. The men who advised it knew it. We ask for nothing but our rights, and by God's will, we will have them. The campaign was a clean one, at least as far as the pros are concerned, and we are entitled to our rights and we are going to have them."

He said that there was an offer Saturday of a compromise. He declared there is no ground for compromise when "we have the victory and the right." As for himself he was against giving one hour. Others he found, were willing to compromise. He would rather lose the election than to give one hour. If the commissioners had given thirty or sixty days extra time he would have let it go without kicking up a row, but this morning he is in an entirely different mood.

"What are we as peace loving citizens going to do? Are we going to let them track the law? (Several voices—make them track the law.) Do you know that we all become parties to every murder and every debauchment of the young men, and that is what will happen if we grant extra time."

Robert Armstrong said that he believed the law clear and unmistakable. At the meeting of the commissioners court the opposition was out in full force and the court was three antis and one pro. He referred to the exciting effect of a pro campaign. He had told several antis that if the vote had been canvassed and the county judge had not acted for thirty or sixty days, nothing would have been said about it.

He offered propositions from two antis for publishing the order the first of December. One was by Mr. Kaezer. Just before he came to the hall, Judge Doremus, who claimed to be authorized to speak, spoke to him about starting the publication of the order December 1.

Mr. Armstrong said that he would not promise anything except to present the matter to the conference. Law Henderson spoke of the questions of expediency and harmony and of bucking the opposition. The legal phases of the situation were outlined together with the possibilities in the course of court proceedings.

Upon motion of Mr. Armstrong it was voted that Chairman Edge get in touch with the county judge and invite him to come before the meeting and tell what he is going to do relative to starting publication.

Jordan Lawler and R. O. Allen spoke during his absence. Mr. Henderson said that he, Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Minkert and other pro lawyers would charge no fees if the matter got into the courts.

Judge Maloney entered the hall at this juncture and was addressed by Mr. Henderson, who said the men present felt that they had been outraged by the action of the commissioners court, feeling that the result of the election should be operative at once. They wanted to know the judge's idea in the matter.

Judge Maloney stated that prior to the election he had not thrown his hand one way or the other. He had kept out of this matter. After the

POULTRY SHOW WILL TAKE ON PHASES OF THE COUNTRY FAIR

Needle Work and Culinary Products, Agricultural Exhibits, Poultry and Farm Produce Auction and Funny Contests Announced.

The members of the Brazos County Poultry Association held a rousing meeting last night at the Commercial Club rooms and discussed various matters for the welfare and success of the poultry show to be held on the 6, 7, 8 and 9th of December.

One of the most important steps taken was a resolution, which passed unanimously, inviting the Woman's Club to hold a fancy work and culinary exhibit in connection with the show. The members of the club have long since learned that nothing can be made a success without the presence and hearty co-operation of the ladies.

The association also decided to conduct an auction of poultry and farm produce that might be brought in and offered for sale. A commission of ten per cent will be charged on all sales and the commissions will be donated to the Bryan Chapter of the American Red Cross. This will no doubt prove to be one of the most popular features of the show. Some of Bryan's well known and most versatile gentlemen have already volunteered "to go to the front" and do the auctioneering.

A rooster crowing contest will be held for boys under 15 years of age and the boy's rooster crowing the greatest number of times in twenty minutes will receive the prize.

Another interesting contest decided upon was for the best foraging hen entered by girls under 15. This contest will be decided by placing before each hen 20 grains of corn and the one making the shortest record of cleaning up the pile will be declared the winner. NOTE—No betting will be permitted on either of the above contests.

This will no doubt be the greatest show Brazos county has ever held and is open to all comers. In connection with the show the State Rhode Island Red club will also exhibit.

The Eagle learns that three members of the Association have entered the National egg laying contest to be conducted under direction of the poultry department of the A. and M. College.

election it was for the court to act. The court felt that the matter of time of enforcement was discretionary with it. After adjournment a new proposition was raised, that the result of the election was announced, or whether the court had a right to dictate to the judge when he shall begin publication. He was sorry that his meeting was held at this time as he had this very question under advisement. The term "forthwith" seemed imperative. He had been told that if he would do certain things he could make himself famous. He did not desire to do his duty. He declared it unfortunate that the government had seen fit to impose such heavy taxes, but he could not help that. When the people declared for a thing they were entitled to have their officials do their duty.

"I am going to publish it," he declared. There was spontaneous applause and shouts of "hurrah for Maloney." He protested against this, saying he was merely doing his public duty. A motion to adjourn was made when Ed Hall called for a rising vote to stand behind the judge in his position in this matter. As everyone in the room was rising the judge said: "Not that—I may do something tomorrow that will make you want to recall this."

"Sufficient unto the day," quoted Mr. Hall. "Let tomorrow take care of itself. We are merely endorsing your attitude on this question."

The vote was taken and the meeting adjourned.

GREECE PREDOMINANT A SHATTERED DREAM

Germanic King Constantine and Army General Staff Prevented the Completion of the Plan of Dethroning Discordant Turkey in Europe.

(By Associated Press) Athens, Oct. 1.—(By Mail)—A dream of the empire which would make Greece a ruling power in Asia Minor along the route to the Orient came very near being realized at the opening of the war in Europe. This has just been brought out with official exactness in the mass of diplomatic documents laid before parliament, and in statements by Premier Venizelos and the Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Politis. Referring to the territorial concessions which Greece could have acquired at that time, M. Venizelos said:

"I had succeeded in obtaining the recognition of the rights of Hellenism over western Asia Minor. And I can say without exaggeration that the day I received the communication of Sir Edward Grey speaking of very important territorial concessions on the coast of Asia Minor, was a day of rejoicing as keen as that when the treaty of Bucharest was signed, giving us Saloniki, Macedonia and new Greece. 'I, who had known how small and feeble Greece was only three or four years ago, saw the stupifying bound she was about to make. This little Greece had now succeeded in occupying a place equal to that of the great powers in the settlement of the fate of Turkey which had been the apple of discord between the European powers.'"

As Asia Minor was a field of German ambition and hope, M. Venizelos said he found himself opposed not only by the then king Constantine, but also by the army general staff, which, he declared, "served a policy purely Germanic." And with this opposition, backed by the king, the opportunity held out to Greece to become a great power in Asia was finally lost.

M. Politis, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, gave some of the details of these concessions, and told how near they came to being realized in two formal treaties.

"Such was the desire of the western powers," he said, "to have Greece adopt a policy mutually advantageous to them and to Greece, that they declared to the Hellenic government they were ready to assure to Greece in return for its co-operation in the war against Turkey, Smyrna and an important part of the hinterland."

After lengthy discussion, M. Politis said, a double convention was concluded. But at this point the army staff intervened and succeeded in defeating the plan.

While these large territorial plans came to nothing, yet their definiteness indicates they may again be heard from when the final adjustment of the war takes place, for Greece is not unlikely to have the same aspirations toward entering Asia Minor, and the western powers the same willingness they have already shown to give Greece a foothold on this route to the Orient.

(By Associated Press) Austin, Texas, Oct. 24.—There is no limit on the amount of taxes that may be levied and collected by counties, cities, towns and sub-divisions of counties in Texas for school purposes according to an act passed by the last session of the legislature, and which bill has been duly approved by Governor Hobby.

Now the limit has been taken off and it is up to the voters of a county or subdivision thereof to determine the amount. Prof. W. F. From Monday's Daily Eagle Prohibition in Brazos county will go into effect forthwith after publication of the order of the county commissioners court, which is to begin immediately. County Judge Maloney has reached this decision after studying the law and the authorities and consulting the attorney general of Texas by telephone. The attorney general told him the commissioners court had no authority to set a date and that he must forthwith, after the passing of the order, make publication. He informed the mass meeting of the prohibitionists, held at 9 o'clock this morning in Carnegie library hall, that he would publish the order, and after the meeting, made the following statement for publication:

"After the meeting of the court Friday morning to canvass the returns, counsel for the antis and pro made arguments to the court as to the law, and the county attorney, having advised the court, the order was passed as made, setting the date for closing the saloons, July 1. After adjournment the question of the court's rights to direct the judge as to date of publication was questioned, and I made diligent search for the law governing. This morning, at 9:30, I called upon the attorney general's department and after stating the action of the court was advised as follows:

"The commissioners court canvassed the returns and if a majority is for prohibition to immediately enter an order declaring the result and absolutely prohibiting the sale, of intoxicating liquors, and that they were not authorized to add to or take from this order that under another statute the county judge shall forthwith publish the order of the commissioners court in some paper published in the county for four successive weeks."

"Propounding the question in various forms, the attorney general said: 'There could be no other construction of the law, and to do otherwise would be violative of the law.'

"With the difference of opinion between local lawyers and the positive statement of the highest advisory authority in the state, I felt that if I did otherwise than publish the order I would be recreant in the discharge of my public duty. I wish to be candid with all, and if I could have found any reasonable legal excuse I would have delayed publication. I had truly hoped that the factions in Brazos county would compromise this matter between themselves and jointly ask the court for a reasonable delay of this publication."

Much indignation was expressed by the pros Friday and Saturday over the action of the commissioners court, and on Sunday the preachers took it up. Rev. Solomon of the Methodist church was particularly indignant and in statements preceding and following his sermon Sunday morning, stated in clear and forcible language that it was an outrage but that the representatives of the saloon men were equally as culpable as the saloon men themselves in endeavoring to override the will of the people.

He and other pastors Sunday night announced from their pulpits that the mass meeting would be held this morning and members of the prohibition committees telephoned their chief adherents in the several precincts of the county to be on hand. As a result some sixty or seventy-five men from all parts of the county were present, most of them being very promptly there at the minute.

J. L. Edge called the meeting to order and asked Dr. M. E. Weaver to offer a prayer, which was for the success of the undertaking under God's direction.

Prof. J. H. Allen stated that the object of this meeting was to get a conference of the prohibitionists of this county on a course to pursue to get action. He outlined the results of the election and the action of the commissioners court: "Now an attempt has been made to override the will of

The case of C. A. Buchanan against the Houston and Texas Central Railroad for possession of a certain parcel of land in the city of Bryan, has been compromised in the district court and settled. By terms of the compromise the plaintiff pays the defendant company $250, all the district court costs and half the costs in the appellate court to which the case was taken following a former trial. Buchanan purchased the lot from the city for a consideration of $1,000, taking a quit claim deed for title to same. The land was occupied by the defendant company, who refused to give possession of same and out of the controversy came the suit for possession and title.

The people. What they have done is illegal. They know it. The men who advised it knew it. We ask for nothing but our rights, and by God's will, we will have them. The campaign was a clean one, at least as far as the pros are concerned, and we are entitled to our rights and we are going to have them."

He said that there was an offer Saturday of a compromise. He declared there is no ground for compromise when "we have the victory and the right." As for himself he was against giving one hour. Others he found, were willing to compromise. He would rather lose the election than to give one hour. If the commissioners had given thirty or sixty days extra time he would have let it go without kicking up a row, but this morning he is in an entirely different mood. "What are we as peace loving citizens going to do? Are we going to make them track the law? (Several voices—make them track the law.) Do you know that we all become parties to every murder and every debauchment of the young men, and that is what will happen if we grant extra time."

Robert Armstrong said that he believed the law clear and unmistakable. At the meeting of the commissioners court the opposition was out in full force and the court was three antis and one pro. He referred to the exciting effect of a pro campaign. He had told several antis that if the vote had been canvassed and the county judge had not acted for thirty or sixty days, nothing would have been said about it.

He offered propositions from two antis for publishing the order the first of December. One was by Mr. Kaczer. Just before he came to the hall, Judge Doremus, who claimed to him about starting the publication of the order December 1.

Mr. Armstrong said that he would not promise anything except to present the matter to the conference.

Law Henderson spoke of the questions of expediency and harmony and of bucking the opposition. The legal phases of the situation were outlined together with the possibilities in the course of court proceedings.

Upon motion of Mr. Armstrong it was voted that Chairman Edge get in touch with the county judge and invite him to come before the meeting and tell what he is going to do relative to starting publication.

Jordan Lawler and R. O. Allen spoke during his absence. Mr. Henderson said that he, Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Minkert and other pro lawyers would charge no fees if the matter got into the courts.

Judge Maloney entered the hall at this juncture and was addressed by Mr. Henderson, who said the men present felt that they had been outraged by the action of the commissioners court, feeling that the result of the election should be operative at once. They wanted to know the judge's idea in the matter.

Judge Maloney stated that prior to the election he had not thrown his hand one way or the other. He had kept out of this matter. After the

POULTRY SHOW WILL TAKE ON PHASES OF THE COUNTRY FAIR

Needle Work and Culinary Products, Agricultural Exhibits, Poultry and Farm Produce Auction and Funny Contests Announced.

The members of the Brazos County Poultry Association held a rousing meeting last night at the Commercial Club rooms and discussed various matters for the welfare and success of the poultry show to be held on the 6, 7, 8 and 9th of December.

One of the most important steps taken was a resolution, which passed unanimously, inviting the Woman's Club to hold a fancy work and culinary exhibit in connection with the show. The members of the club have long since learned that nothing can be made a success without the presence and hearty co-operation of the ladies.

The association also decided to conduct an auction of poultry and farm produce that might be brought in and offered for sale. A commission of ten per cent will be charged on all sales and the commissions will be donated to the Bryan Chapter of the American Red Cross. This will no doubt prove to be one of the most popular features of the show. Some of Bryan's well known and most versatile gentlemen have already volunteered "to go to the front" and do the auctioneering.

A rooster crowing contest will be held for boys under 15 years of age and the boy's rooster crowing the greatest number of times in twenty minutes will receive the prize.

Another interesting contest decided upon was for the best foraging hen entered by girls under 15. This contest will be decided by placing before each hen 20 grains of corn and the one making the shortest record of cleaning up the pile will be declared the winner. NOTE—No betting will be permitted on either of the above contests.

This will no doubt be the greatest show Brazos county has ever held and is open to all comers. In connection with the show the State Rhode Island Red club will also exhibit.

The Eagle learns that three members of the Association have entered the National egg laying contest to be conducted under direction of the poultry department of the A. and M. College.

election it was for the court to act. The court felt that the matter of time of enforcement was discretionary with it. After adjournment a new proposition was raised, that the court's duties ceased when the result of the election was announced, or whether the court had a right to dictate to the judge when he shall begin publication. He was sorry that this meeting was held at this time as he had this very question under advisement. The term "forthwith," seemed imperative. He had been told that if he would do certain things he could make himself famous. His sole desire was to do his duty. He declared it unfortunate that the government had seen fit to impose such heavy taxes, but he could not help that. When the people declared for a thing they were entitled to have their officials do their duty.

"I am going to publish it," he declared.

There was spontaneous applause and shouts of "hurrah for Maloney." He protested against this, saying he was merely doing his public duty.

A motion to adjourn was made when Ed Hall called for a rising vote to stand behind the judge in his position in this matter. As everyone in the room was rising the judge said: "Not that—I may do something tomorrow that will make you want to recall this."

"Sufficient unto the day," quoted Mr. Hall. "Let tomorrow take care of itself. We are merely endorsing your attitude on this question." The vote was taken and the meeting adjourned.

Our First Sea Tragedy

Our first sea tragedy in which an American transport was involved, occurred Wednesday in the danger zone in European waters. Seventy men are reported missing. Some of these may have taken to the boats or been otherwise rescued, but there has doubtless been loss of life and the vessel is known to have been sunk.

Once again something has been made to happen which brings closer the fact that we are at war, a real war, the biggest war in which this government has ever been engaged. That we have escaped the submarines in the danger zones heretofore has been due to the extreme precautions on our part and the inability of the Germans to get at us. But now that they have penetrated the line of travel for transports it would not be surprising to read in The Eagle any evening the fact that a transport loaded with troops going to France had been sunk, and instead of seventy missing there might be seven hundred, or even two or three thousand, if it happened to be one of the great steamers seized from the Germans at the outbreak of the war.

A plentiful supply of money to furnish adequate and alert convoys is one reason for our wonderful success in thus far having transported several hundred thousand troops to France. That the soldier boys may be continued in their protection there must be a steady flow of money into the treasury of the United States government. Huge sums are being spent to give just this sort of protection to the soldiers, but it is not all, by any means, confined to the transports. The boys must be kept warm, in good health with proper medical supervision, good food, good quarters, plenty of proper exercises, provided with guns and other equipment of the very best and most modern—and it all costs a tremendous lot of money. It is for these purposes that the proceeds of the sale of the liberty bonds are to be used. Had not the government been plentifully supplied with money in the past we would not have been able to send even so many troops as we have to France, and many of those who left our shores would not have reached the other side. But even with all the money that could possibly be spent, such things as this sea tragedy would be bound to occur once in a while. Man can die but once in this world, and he may die at the hands of the German submarine crew or quietly in his bed. His time comes to go, and he is gone, regardless of the amount of money that may be spent to save him.

Corn Club Boys Are Home From the Fair

From Monday's Daily Eagle
County Demonstration Agent C. L. Beason, together with the Brazos county corn club boys, has returned from a week's stay at the Dallas fair and reports a most pleasant and profitable visit. The boys accompanied him were, Dan Hall and Thurman Crenshaw of Steep Hollow, Sam Pate of Harvey, Ama Williams of Rock Prairie and Reagan Warren of Leonard School House. The party had comfortable quarters on the grounds and every minute of the week was enjoyed. Especially did the boys enjoy the agricultural exhibits of the different counties and the poultry and livestock departments. The things seen at the fair and the ideas and information gained, will be an inspiration for the boys in the future in their work as corn club boys, as well as in their work when they take their places as leaders in the farm work in Brazos county. Turner Crenshaw of Steep Hollow, father of one of the boys accompanied the party and remained the entire week.

WHAT EAGLE FILES TELL OF OTHER DAYS

Yesterday was a happy day for Manager Cain of the water, light and power company for the reason that his expectations of 120,000 gallons of water per day as a result of putting in the two large new pumps were realized. The beautiful flow of water secured will easily reach and probably exceed the above figures which Mr. Cain says is abundant to supply the town. This is good news for the parched and thirsty city, and the management of the plant certainly deserves credit for the untiring energy shown in battling against ill luck or adverse fate.

After enjoying a look at the water a few other friends and the reporters enjoyed a barbecue lunch with the proper accessories, tendered by Mr. Cain.

A good working force might be secured by flushing the vagrant negroes some fine day when that ilk which lives by the grace of the cooks of the city is not expecting an attack.

No Special Officer On College Road

From Tuesday's Daily Eagle
Relative to the communication in the Eagle Monday afternoon as to speeding on the College road, an interview was had with Sheriff T. C. Nunn today by a representative of the Eagle as to what steps he would take for the enforcement of the law as to speeders on that popular highway. The sheriff stated that he could not afford to employ a special officer for the arrest of speeders on the College road but would certainly make an arrest in every case coming to his knowledge. He further stated that the enforcement of all laws depended upon the cooperation of the citizens with the officers, and he thought it the duty of all good citizens to report all violations of law, not only speeding, but in all things else, where the law was broken. He believed if the people would co-operate with him and his deputies and report every violation coming within their knowledge, the practice of speeding on this road could soon be broken up and this splendid highway, a credit to Bryan and Brazos county, could be made safe for all traffic and made so that a person is not taking his life in his own hands when he ventures out over it.

John Barleycorn's Death in Dallas

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 22.—Texans by the tens of thousands Saturday night watched the saloon lights of Dallas wanly flicked and die; devotees of Bacchus poured their final libations at his shrine, but contrary to expectations of the local constabulary, there was no shattered plateglass or scenes of wild disorder.

Crowds gathering for the requiem of the late Barleycorn appeared to regard the interment as a huge joke and with merry quip and laughter ushered out the demijohns.

Stalwart and khaki-clad military police from Camp Bowie idly twirled their batons on street corners and chatted with the made-in-Dallas blue coats. There was little for them to do.

MRS. YOUNGBLOOD IS COUNTY CHAIRMAN OF WAR COUNCIL LIBRARY

Governor Hobby has appointed Mrs. B. Youngblood, chairman of the Texas Library War Council of Brazos county. This council, backed by the authority of the United States government, is undertaking its share of a nation-wide effort to raise $1,000,000 to provide libraries for Uncle Sam's fighting boys at home and abroad.

This week will be devoted to the dissemination of information on all phases of the campaign and to the organization of community committees. It will be followed by a week of actual solicitation of funds.

Mrs. Youngblood is in touch with persons in Bryan, College, Tabor, Steep Hollow, Edge and other centers and expects to announce her committee chairmen in a day or two.

The present campaign is based largely on principles arising from Great Britain's war experience in keeping up the morale of her troops at the front. It is launched in direct co-operation with the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. While the War Work fund of the latter organization provides for the establishment of certain cantonment libraries, it does not satisfy the same need as will the War Council fund. Out of the latter will develop books and buildings which will nearly all be of a permanent nature. The libraries will be regularly organized with efficient librarians in charge.

38,000,000 MEN ARE NOW BEARING ARMS

Washington, Oct. 23.—At least 38,000,000 men are bearing arms in the war—27,500,000 on the side of the world allies and 10,500,000 on the side of the central powers, according to latest war department compilations from published reports in various countries. These figures do not include the naval personnel strength, which would raise the total several millions.

Against Germany's 7,000,000, Austria's 3,000,000, Turkey's 3,000,000 and Bulgaria's 300,000 are arrayed the following armed forces:

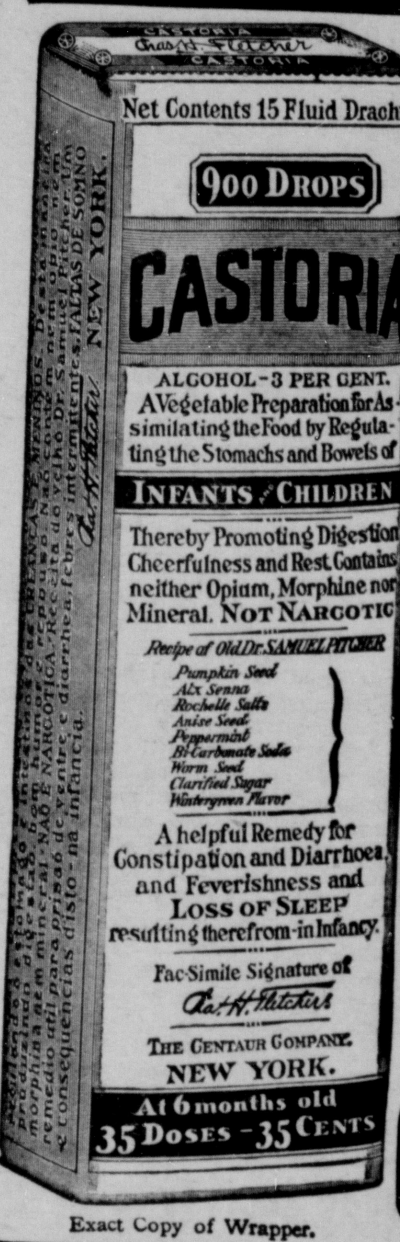

Russia, 9,000,000; France, 6,000,000; Great Britain, 5,000,000; Italy, 3,000,000; Japan, 1,400,000; United States, more than 1,000,000; China, 541,000; Rumania, 320,000; Serbia, 300,000; Belgium, 300,000; Greece, 300,000; Portugal, 200,000; Montenegro, 40,000; Siam, 35,000; Cuba, 11,000, and Liberia, 400. San Marino and Panama also have small forces under arms.

Military experts do not regard these figures as entirely accurate, but believe they represent in round figures the comparative strengths of the contending armies as published recently.

AT AGE OF 88 MRS. GOODSON DOES HER BIT

From Friday's Daily Eagle
Mrs. L. M. Goodson is now engaged in knitting for the soldiers of the third war in her experience. She is now eighty-eight years of age and for about sixty years has resided at the place she now occupies, beyond Smetana on the river. She first knitted and made tents during the years 1848 and 1849 when the Mexican war was on. She did the same in 1861 to 1863 during the civil war in which she had a brother and husband. Now she is knitting for the soldiers in France that she may do her little mite, as she calls it. Her health is good, her eyesight seems normal and she is active and bright.

During the civil war her children were all small, and she had a large family of them. She looked after and provided for them on the farm where she now lives. She seems to have few of the regrets for that war, but coming from Tennessee fighting stock is rather proud of the fact that she is the mother of soldiers. She is happy and content.

Our First Sea Tragedy

Our first sea tragedy in which an American transport was involved, occurred Wednesday in the danger zone in European waters. Seventy men are reported missing. But even with all the money that could possibly be spent, such things as this sea tragedy would be bound to occur once in a while. Man can die but once in this world, and he may die at the hands of the German submarine crew or quietly in his bed. His time comes to go, and he is gone, regardless of the amount of money that may be spent to save him.

Corn Club Boys Are Home From the Fair

From Monday's Daily Eagle
County Demonstration Agent C. L. Beason, together with the Brazos county corn club boys, has returned from a week's stay at the Dallas fair and reports a most pleasant and profitable visit. The boys accompanying him were, Dan Hall and Thurman Crenshaw of Steep Hollow, Sam Pate of Harvey, Anna Williams of Rock Prairie and Reagan Warren of Leonard School House. The party had comfortable quarters on the grounds and every minute of the week was enjoyed. Especially did the boys enjoy the agricultural exhibits of the different counties and the poultry and livestock departments. The things seen at the fair and the ideas and information gained, will be an inspiration for the boys in the future in their work as corn club boys, as well as in their work when they take their places as leaders in the farm work in Brazos county. Turner Crenshaw of Steep Hollow, father of one of the boys accompanied the party and remained the entire week.

Yesterday was a happy day for Manager Cain of the water, light and power company for the reason that his expectations of 120,000 gallons of water per day as a result of putting in the two large new pumps were realized. The beautiful flow of water secured will easily reach and probably exceed the above figures which Mr. Cain says is abundant to supply the town. This is good news for the parched and thirsty city, and the management of the plant certainly deserves credit for the untiring energy shown in battling against ill luck or adverse fate.

After enjoying a look at the water a few other friends and the reporters enjoyed a barbecue lunch with the proper accessories, tendered by Mr. Cain.

Yesterday Constable Forrester went over into the vicinity of Independence and arrested a young German and lodged him in jail on two charges of horse theft. It appears that he stole the horse some time ago and sold it to a farmer near here and then returned to his home near Independence. A reward of $10 was offered by the owner for the horse, and the thief went and stole the horse from the man he recently sold him to and returned it to the owner to receive the reward—Navasota Review.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Buchanan and children went to Waco yesterday, where Mr. Buchanan will participate in the state democratic conference today as chairman of the party in Brazos county.

Mrs. J. W. Coulter and daughters, Mr. Houston and family, Walter Coulter and Powell Winter spent Sunday on the Brazos river. At Batte's ferry in the afternoon on the way home they witnessed the baptizing of thirty-two negroes.

In speaking of the dust problem yesterday, W. T. James said the cheapest way to keep it down would be to cover Main street with clay which abounds near town, and he added that he would contribute the work of a wagon and team and driver for a week to haul the clay. If everybody else would do that much the dust nuisance would soon be abated if not stopped. A good working force might be secured by flushing the vagrant negroes some fine day when that ilk which lives by the grace of the cooks of the city is not expecting an attack.

Dr. H. T. Coulter was in from the Brazos bottom yesterday, accompanied by John Nabors, and said that the barbecue and dance given by the Nabors boys Tuesday night was a big success, and hugely enjoyed by all in attendance.

At their last meeting the Knights of Pythias installed the following officers for the ensuing year: H. G. Rhodes, chancellor; A. M. Waldrop, vice-chancellor; J. M. Lawrence, prelate; T. F. Castles, master of work; E. J. Jenkins, master at arms; E. F. Parks, inner guard; Dr. R. H. Harrison, outer guard. The members of the Bryan lodge have been invited to attend a school of instruction in the work and principles of the order to be held with the Navasota lodge.

Miss Lucy Buchanan returned home to Virginia yesterday after spending several months with her sister, Mrs. Edward Hall.

No Special Officer On College Road

From Tuesday's Daily Eagle
Relative to the communication in the Eagle Monday afternoon as to speeding on the College road, an interview was had with Sheriff T. C. Nunn today by a representative of the Eagle as to what steps he would take for the enforcement of the law as to speeders on that popular highway. The sheriff stated that he could not afford to employ a special officer for the arrest of speeders on the College road but would certainly make an arrest in every case coming to his knowledge. He further stated that the enforcement of all laws depended upon the cooperation of the citizens with the officers and he thought it the duty of all good citizens to report all violations of law, not only speeding, but in all things else, where the law was broken. He believed if the people would cooperate with him and his deputies and report every violation coming within their knowledge, the practice of speeding on this road could soon be broken up and this splendid highway, a credit to Bryan and Brazos county, could be made safe for all traffic and made so that a person is not taking his life in his own hands when he ventures out over it.

John Barleycorn's Death in Dallas

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 22.—Texans by the tens of thousands Saturday night watched the saloon lights of Dallas wanly flicked and die; devotees of Bacchus poured their final libations at his shrine, but contrary to expectations of the local constabulary, there was no shattered plateglass or scenes of wild disorder.

Crowds gathering for the requiem of the late Barleycorn appeared to regard the interment as a huge joke and with merry quip and laughter ushered out the demijohns.

Stalwart and khaki-clad military police from Camp Bowie idly twirled their batons on street corners and chatted with the made-in-Dallas blue coats. There was little for them to do.

"I'll Show You How Corns Peel Off!"

Ever Peel a Banana Skin? That's It!
"I should worry about those corns—I just put some 'Gets-It' on." Corns used to pester the world into a frenzy, enduring pain, digging, slicing toes, tinkering with plasters.

"Gets-It" Puts Your Feet in Clover—It Ends Corns Quickly, and tape, trying to fix a corn so it wouldn't hurt. But now go on in the world "should worry," because the moment you put "Gets-It" on, it means the end of a corn. There is nothing in the world like "Gets-It"—nothing as sure and certain—nothing that you can count on to take off a corn or callus every time, and without danger. The corn never grew that "Gets-It" will not get. It never irritates the flesh, never makes your toes sore. Just two drops of "Gets-It" and presto! the corn-pain vanishes. Shortly you can peel the corn right off with your finger and there you are—your finger and happy with the toe as smooth and corn-free as your palm. Never happened before, did it? Guess not.

MRS. YOUNGBLOOD IS COUNTY CHAIRMAN OF WAR COUNCIL LIBRARY

Governor Hobby has appointed Mrs. B. Youngblood, chairman of the Texas Library War Council of Brazos county. This council, backed by the authority of the United States government, is undertaking its share of a nation-wide effort to raise $1,000,000 to provide libraries for Uncle Sam's fighting boys at home and abroad.

This week will be devoted to the dissemination of information on all phases of the campaign and to the organization of community committees. It will be followed by a week of actual solicitation of funds.

Mrs. Youngblood is in touch with persons in Bryan, College, Tabor, Steep Hollow, Edge and other centers and expects to announce her committee chairmen in a day or two. The present campaign is based largely on principles arising from Great Britain's war experience in keeping up the morale of her troops at the front. It is launched in direct cooperation with the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. While the War Work fund of the latter organization provides for the establishment of certain cantonment libraries, it does not satisfy the same need as will the War Council fund. Out of the latter will develop books and buildings which will nearly all be of a permanent nature. The libraries will be regularly organized with efficient librarians in charge.

Hunters After Wet Lands in Accident

From Friday's Daily Eagle
A "fiver" containing seven men turned turtle near Pitts bridge yesterday while en route to discover some wet territory in Burleson county. The car was "hitting a lively tip" when the accident happened. Two of the men were pinned under the car. Outside of a severe jolting and a good scare none of the parties were hurt in the accident.

38,000,000 MEN ARE NOW BEARING ARMS

Washington, Oct. 23.—At least 38,000,000 men are bearing arms in the war—27,500,000 on the side of the world allies and 10,500,000 on the side of the central powers, according to latest war department compilations from published reports in various countries. These figures do not include the naval personnel strength, which would raise the total several millions.

Against Germany's 7,000,000, Austria's 3,000,000, Turkey's 300,000 and Bulgaria's 300,000 are arrayed the following armed forces:

Russia, 9,000,000; France, 6,000,000; Great Britain, 5,000,000; Italy, 3,000,000; Japan, 1,400,000; United States, more than 1,000,000; China, 541,000; Rumania, 320,000; Serbia, 300,000; Belgium, 300,000; Greece, 300,000; Portugal, 200,000; Montenegro, 40,000; Siam, 35,000; Cuba, 11,000, and Liberia, 400. San Marino and Panama also have small forces under arms.

Military experts do not regard these figures as entirely accurate, but believe they represent in round figures the comparative strengths of the contending armies as published recently.

AT AGE OF 88 MRS. GOODSON DOES HER BIT

From Friday's Daily Eagle
Mrs. L. M. Goodson is now engaged in knitting for the soldiers of the third war in her experience. She is now eighty-eight years of age and for about sixty years has resided at the place she now occupies, beyond Smetana on the river. She first knitted and made tents during the years 1848 and 1849 when the Mexican war was on. She did the same in 1861 to 1863 during the civil war in which she had a brother and husband. Now she is knitting for the soldiers in France that she may do her little mite, as she calls it. Her health is good, her eyesight seems normal and she is active and bright.

During the civil war her children were all small, and she had a large family of them. She looked after and provided for them on the farm where she now lives. She seems to have few of the regrets for the war, but coming from Tennessee fighting stock is rather proud of the fact that she is the mother of soldiers. She is happy and content.

"A HOME INSTITUTION"

EXTENSION OF TIME TO SALOON MEN NOT LEGAL IN CIVIL LAW

From Saturday's Daily Eagle
When Judge Victor B. Hudson had completed his presentation of the side of the saloon men before the county commissioners yesterday morning, County Attorney Lamar Betha made quite a lengthy argument on the legal points. He cited a number of cases wherein time had elapsed over and beyond the period of four publications required of county judge of the judgment of the court on the results of the election. These were all in criminal cases, the contention having been made by Judge Hudson that the criminal statutes govern in local option matters. These cases involved the arrests of people charged with unlawfully selling liquor in local option territory, and because the judges had not published the results of the elections as determined by the commissioners' courts, the defendants had been declared not guilty.

Robert Armstrong presented the pro side of the matter. He declared that the civil law should govern in this matter, as the election was held under the civil statutes, the proceedings of the court in passing on the election returns and declaring the result is a civil matter and the duty of the county judge is purely a ministerial one under the civil statutes. In support of this he cited decisions of the supreme court, and called attention to the criminal cases cited to show that the county judges in those cases had been negligent of their duty in having failed to make publication forthwith after the court had declared the result of the election. Opinions of the supreme court were to effect that the law contemplates no extension of time beyond that required to complete four publications following declaration of the result of the election.

On the point made by Judge Hudson that the court should open the ballot boxes and count the ballots, Mr. Armstrong read opinions of the supreme court to prove that the commissioners' court had no authority to open the ballot boxes.
At the conclusion of Mr. Armstrong's presentation the court voted not to open the ballot boxes, and then voted upon the date of putting into effect the results of the election. All but Claude Buchanan voted to give the saloon men until the first of July to close out their businesses, but Mr. Buchanan contended that the commissioners had no authority to grant any extension of time whatever—that the law is plain and the county judge MUST forthwith publish for four consecutive times the declaration of the result of the election. In a brief talk he made before the vote was taken he declared that he believed in giving the people their expressed will, and as they had by majority vote declared that the saloons must go, the commissioners, as Democrats, should act accordingly. After the vote was taken and he was among the last to cast his vote against the other members, he was pleasantly quizzed about his democracy.
Mr. Betha appeared as the constituted legal adviser of the court and Mr. Armstrong as a volunteer for the pros.
The court's canvass of the returns, according to the order subsequently made, showed that prohibition had won by 43 votes—two more than the unofficial returns showed. The order of the court is to the effect that the first publication shall be made the first week in June, 1918, for four successive weeks, when prohibition shall go into effect.

KNAPP AND OUSLEY ARRIVE AND DELVE INTO WAR WORK

From Tuesday's Daily Eagle
Hon. Bradford Knapp, head of the extension work of the United States agricultural department in the south, and Hon. Clarence Ousley, assistant secretary of agriculture and director of the extension service of A. and M. college, arrived from Dallas early this morning, and later appeared at headquarters at the college, where they immediately went into session with Miss Gearing of the state university, but who has charge of a phase of the food conservation work in this state. Miss Gearing left on a noon train, hence the gentlemen were very busy.
Mr. Knapp is touring the southwest in an effort to solve some of the food problems due to the war. For example, he is assisting at this time in organizing the cattle movement from west to east Texas, from the drought stricken regions to the regions of plenty. He has been assisting in organizing the cattle movement from the Texas plains to eastern states, and reports that 75,000 head have passed through Fort Worth in that direction.
Both gentlemen will speak Wednesday evening at 4:10 to the students of A. and M. college and at night to the people of Bryan in Carnegie library. As tomorrow will be liberty day, both addresses will be in line with the president's proclamation on the subject, and as they are both fresh from Washington they come with a distinct message to Bryan people.
Mr. Knapp will leave after the speaking Wednesday night, but Mr. Ousley will remain until Friday, when he will go to Tyler to deliver an address.

Red Cross Knitting According to Orders

From Friday's Daily Eagle
The Bryan, Texas chapter of the Red Cross has yarn on hand with which to do knitting for the soldiers and sailors of the United States. In order that there may be uniformity and equality of weight and measurements certain rules are prescribed, compliance with which is absolutely necessary. It matters not how anybody was taught to do these things; the soldiers duty is to obey orders as given, and Red Cross workers are soldiers and must do as their superiors require, else they are not good soldiers. In Bryan only three kinds of garments will be knitted. Orders from headquarters are that the sleeveless sweater requires two and a half orank (5-8 and some py lb.), for hanks of yarn (5-8 lb.), and one pair of Red Cross needles No. 5.
Cast on 80 stitches. Knit 2, puri 2 stitches for 4 inches. Knit plain until sweater measures 25 inches. Knit 28 stitches for neck, loose. Knit 28 stitches. Knit 7 ridges on each shoulder, cast on 24 stitches. Knit plain for 21 inches. Puri 2, knit 2 stitches for 4 inches. Sew up sides, leaving 9 inches for armholes. 2 rows single crochet around neck and 1 row single crochet around the armholes.
Muffler—2 1-2 hanks of yarn (5-8 lb.) 1 pair Red Cross needles No. 5. Cast on 50 stitches or 11 inches. Plain knitting for 68 inches.
Wristlets No. 1—1-2 hank of yarn (1-8 lb.); 1 pair Red Cross needles No. 3.
Cast on 48 stitches, knit 2 and puri 2 for 12 inches, and sew up leaving 2 inches open space for thumb 2 inches from the edge.
In previous publications of the rules for knitting of sweaters a typographical error occurred. The correct requirement is that seven ridges shall be knit on each shoulder, and then cast on twenty-four stitches.

Calomel Dynamites
A SLUGGISH LIVER
Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.
If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugist and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.
If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it—Adv.

GROVER SMITH PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER GIVEN 10 YEARS

From Monday's Daily Eagle
The case of the State of Texas against Grover Smith, charged with murder, was called in the district court this morning and both the State and defendant announced ready for trial. A special venire of seventy-five men had been summoned, but before the selection of a jury began, a conference was held between the attorneys in the case and an agreement was reached.
Agrees to Plead Guilty.
The defendant, Smith, through his attorneys, agreed to enter a plea of guilty and accept a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary, which was accepted by the State. Accordingly the first twelve men on the venire were sworn to try the case and after hearing the indictment read and the testimony of witnesses, returned a verdict in accordance with the above agreement.
Sentence Passed.
The defendant waived all further rights as to time under the law and asked that sentence be passed at once, which was done by Judge Morehead, directing that he be taken to the penitentiary at Huntsville and there confined at hard labor for ten years, less the usual time allowance for good behavior.

Brief History.
Early last December Grover Smith and Perry Worthington had a difficulty at Bryan Junction in the Brazos bottom, in which Smith was shot but not seriously injured. Several days later, on December 21st, the parties were all in Bryan to attend Worthington's examining trial and meeting in front of Waldrop & Co.'s store, the trouble was renewed with the result that Harvey Worthington, 15 years old was killed and his brother, Percy Worthington, seriously shot. Smith was arrested and made bond after his examining trial. He was indicted at the March term of the district court, but his case was continued at that term because of the absence of witnesses.
The case created wide-spread interest and the trial was expected to last several days.
The defendant was represented by Judge V. B. Hudson and T. R. Battle and the State by District Attorney W. C. Davis, Judge W. F. Hillard and Jesse Garrett of Caldwell.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 22.—Five classifications into which men awaiting draft will be divided under the new regulations approved by President Wilson. Members of the local exemption board printed the classifications of the back of menu cards Saturday night after dinner at New York at which Secretary Baker and Provost Marshal Crowder spoke—men in classification one and the order in which they will be called.
One, single men without dependent relatives.
Two, married men (or widower with children) who habitually fails to support his family.
Three, married men dependent on wife for support.
Four, married men (or widower with children) not usefully engaged. Family supported or income independent of his labor.

HOG STEALING CASE EXCITES INTEREST

A theft of eleven hogs, charged by grand jury indictment against Rube Mullinax and Houston Neeley, has attracted about as much attention and interest at any case on the criminal docket at this term of the district court. The list of witnesses number twenty most of whom are from Grimes county. Carl Harper of Madisonville is in court representing the young men, while the state is represented by District Attorney W. C. Davis. The regular jury for the week was called this morning and from it ten men were taken, leaving two yet to be chosen for which a special call was issued by the court, who ordered the sheriff to secure a dozen extra men to report this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The fact that the fight is being made with the strength it is, the number of witnesses summoned and the interest aroused because of the prominence of the parties, all of whom are white, makes it the feature of the week at the court house.
The indictment charges that the hogs were stolen from C. C. Cobb on or about January 21, 1917.

School Bonds Voted by Nearly Five to One in the Election Thursday

Vote Was 207 for the Bonds and 44 Against—Article 16 Was Retained in the Charter Despite Active Opposition by a Vote of 129 to 111—Vote Was Light Because Circus Crowds Demanded the Undivided Attention of the Merchants.

Taxpayers of Bryan do not seem to have been afraid of themselves, their ability to pay, war taxes, state taxes or anything else when it came to a question of providing safe and efficient facilities for the teaching of their children. By a vote of 207 against 44, almost five to one, they declared themselves willing to shoulder a bonded debt of $90,000 even in war times for the erection of a new high school building, and that, too, without any great campaign having been made for the proposition. It being circus day with a large crowd in town, many business men did not get to vote until after six o'clock when they closed their stores. The vote was lighter than it would probably otherwise have been. Merchants were so busy that many of them were never able to leave their stores to go to dinner. Bryan usually casts about 450 votes on a bond proposition, or at least there are that many in the city entitled to vote thereon.
A decided campaign was made for the repeal of article 16 of the charter, the improvement district provision. None but The Eagle made any semblance of a fight against this campaign. Nevertheless, the citizens made a stand against removing the article from the charter, voting 129 for the retention of the article and 111 for its removal. Probably the opposition was on in full strength and its 129 votes represents all who opposed the article 16, while had there been a full vote this opposition would have been snowed under to the extent of seven to one.
The result of the school bond election was known shortly after the polls closed and immediately thereafter telephone messages to The Eagle expressed the results and congratulations for the stand it had taken in this and the other proposition. The proponents of the school bonds were more than highly elated, and would have had bonfires and brass bands had they thought it dignified in keeping with the proposition.

EXTENSION OF TIME TO SALOON MEN NOT LEGAL IN CIVIL LAW

From Saturday's Daily Eagle
When Judge Victor E. Hudson had completed his presentation of the side of the saloon men before the county commissioners yesterday morning, County Attorney Lamar Bethea made quite a lengthy argument on the legal points. He cited a number of cases wherein time had elapsed over and beyond the period of four publications required of county judges in the judgment of the court on the results of the election. These were all in criminal cases, the contention having been made by Judge Hudson that the criminal statutes govern in local option matters. These cases involved the arrests of people charged with unlawfully selling liquor in local option territory, and because the judges had not published the results of the elections as determined by the commissioners' courts, the defendants had been declared not guilty.

Robert Armstrong presented the pro side of the matter. He declared that the civil law should govern in this matter, as the election was held under the civil statutes, the proceedings of the court in passing on the election returns and declaring the result is a civil matter and the duty of the county judge is purely a ministerial one under the civil statutes. In support of this he cited decisions of the supreme court, and called attention to the criminal cases cited to show that the county judges in those cases had been negligent of their duty in having failed to make publication forthwith after the court had declared the result of the election. Opinions of the supreme court were to effect that the law contemplates no extension of time beyond that required to complete four publications following declaration of the result of the election.

On the point made by Judge Hudson that the court should open the ballot boxes and count the ballots, Mr. Armstrong read opinions of the supreme court to prove that the commissioners' court had no authority to open the ballot boxes.

At the conclusion of Mr. Armstrong's presentation the court voted not to open the ballot boxes, and then voted upon the date of putting into effect the results of the election. All but Claude Buchanan voted to give the saloon men until the first of July to close out their businesses, but Mr. Buchanan contended that the commissioners had no authority to grant any extension of time whatever—that the law is plain and the county judge MUST forthwith publish for four consecutive times the declaration of the result of the election. In a brief talk he made before the vote was taken he declared that he believed in giving the people their expressed will, and as they had by majority vote declared that the saloons must go, the commissioners, as Democrats, should act accordingly. After the vote was taken and he was among the last to cast his vote against the saloon members, he was pleasantly quizzed about his democracy.

Mr. Bethea appeared as the constituted legal adviser of the court and Mr. Armstrong as a volunteer for the pros.

The court's canvass of the returns, according to the order subsequently made, showed that prohibition had won by 43 votes—two more than the unofficial returns showed. The order of the court is to the effect that the first publication shall be made the first week in June, 1918, for four successive weeks, when prohibition shall go into effect.

KNAPP AND OUSLEY ARRIVE AND DELVE INTO WAR WORK

From Tuesday's Daily Eagle
Hon. Bradford Knapp, head of the extension work of the United States agricultural department in the south, and Hon. Clarence Ousley, assistant secretary of agriculture and director of the extension service of A. and M. college, arrived from Dallas early this morning, and later appeared at headquarters at the college, where they immediately went into session with Miss Gearing of the state university, but who has charge of a phase of the food conservation work in this state. Miss Gearing left on a noon train, hence the gentlemen were very busy.

Mr. Knapp is touring the southwest in an effort to solve some of the food problems due to the war. For example, he is assisting at this time in organizing the cattle movement from west to east Texas, from the drought stricken regions to the regions of plenty. He has been assisting in organizing the cattle movement from the Texas plains to eastern states, and reports that 75,000 head have passed through Fort Worth in that direction.

Both gentlemen will speak Wednesday evening at 4:10 to the students of A. and M. college and at night to the people of Bryan in Carnegie library. As tomorrow will be liberty day, both addresses will be in line with the president's proclamation on the subject, and as they are both fresh from Washington they come with a distinct message to Bryan people.

Mr. Knapp will leave after the speaking Wednesday night, but Mr. Ousley will remain until Friday, when he will go to Tyler to deliver an address.

Red Cross Knitting According to Orders

From Friday's Daily Eagle
The Bryan, Texas chapter of the Red Cross has yarn on hand with which to do knitting for the soldiers and sailors of the United States. In order that there may be uniformity and equality of weight and measurements certain rules are prescribed, compliance with which is absolutely necessary. It matters not how anybody was taught to do these things; the soldiers duty is to obey orders as given, and Red Cross workers are soldiers and must do as their superiors require, else they are not good soldiers. In Bryan only three kinds of garments will be knitted. Orders from headquarters are that the sleeveless sweater requires two and a half row anks (5-8 and one p. y. lb.), for hanks of yarn (5-8 lb.), and one pair of Red Cross needles No. 5.

Cast on 80 stitches. Knit 2, purl 2 stitches for 4 inches. Knit plain until sweater measures 25 inches. Knit 28 stitches for neck, loose. Knit 28 stitches. Knit 7 ridges on each shoulder, cast on 24 stitches. Knit plain for 21 inches. Purl 2, knit 2 stitches for 4 inches. Sew up sides, leaving 9 inches for armholes. 2 rows single crochet around neck and 1 row single crochet around the armholes.

Muffler—2 1-2 hanks of yarn (5-8 lb.) 1 pair Red Cross needles No. 5. Cast on 50 stitches or 11 inches. Plain knitting for 68 inches.

Wristlets No. 1.—1-2 hank of yarn (1-8 lb.); 1 pair Red Cross needles No. 3. Cast on 48 stitches, knit 2 and purl 2 for 12 inches, and sew up leaving 2 inches open space for thumb 2 inches from the edge.

In previous publications of the rules for knitting of sweaters a typographical error occurred. The correct requirement is that seven ridges shall be knit on each shoulder, and then cast on twenty-four stitches.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugist and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

GROVER SMITH PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER GIVEN 10 YEARS

From Monday's Daily Eagle
The case of the State of Texas against Grover Smith, charged with murder, was called in the district court this morning and both the State and defendant announced ready for trial. A special venire of seventy-five men had been summoned, but before the selection of a jury began, a conference was held between the attorneys in the case and an agreement was reached.

Agrees to Plead Guilty.
The defendant, Smith, through his attorneys, agreed to enter a plea of guilty and accept a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary, which was accepted by the State. Accordingly the first twelve men on the venire were sworn to try the case and after hearing the indictment read and the testimony of witnesses, returned a verdict in accordance with the above agreement.

Sentence Passed.
The defendant waived all further rights as to time under the law and asked that sentence be passed at once, which was done by Judge Morehead, directing that he be taken to the penitentiary at Huntsville and there confined at hard labor for ten years, less the usual time allowance for good behavior.

Brief History.
Early last December Grover Smith and Perry Worthington had a difficulty at Bryan Junction in the Brazos bottom, in which Smith was shot but not seriously injured. Several days later, on December 21st, the parties were all in Bryan to attend Worthington's examining trial and meeting in front of Waldrop & Co.'s store, the trouble was renewed with the result that Harvey Worthington, 15 years old was killed and his brother, Percy Worthington, seriously shot. Smith was arrested and made bond after his examining trial. He was indicted at the March term of the district court, but his case was continued at that term because of the absence of witnesses.

The case created wide-spread interest and the trial was expected to last several days.

The defendant was represented by Judge V. B. Hudson and T. R. Batte and the State by District Attorney W. C. Davis, Judge W. F. Hilliard and Jesse Garrett of Caldwell.

LEMON JUICE IS FRECKLE REMOVER

Make This Beauty Lotion Cheaply for Your Face, Neck, Arms and Hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of one of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands. Adv.

BRAZOS COUNTY'S PART IN WORK OF SAVING FOOD

County Chairman Beason Sets Forth Great Importance of Food Conservation and Gives Organized Forces for Work in Brazos County.

To the people of Brazos county: We are told that the whole world is short in food stocks and that entire communities in Europe are starving to death. To endeavor to relieve this situation at home and abroad is the duty of every American whose soul is alive with the spirit of freedom.

Not only is the supreme test of our patriotism upon us, but our liberties, our fortunes, our homes, and even our lives, hang in the balance awaiting our efforts to life high and safe the banner of justice and right into victory's column. "The time has come to conquer or submit." For the liberty-loving American there is no such alternative as submission to autocracy.

Our Food Administrator is calling upon the 3961 families in Brazos county to sign a card pledging co-operation in food conservation in the home, in so far as circumstances permit. For this there are no dues. The plan is simply to enlist the co-operation of every family in food conservation. Surely no one could be indifferent to ward such a plan. If you are a faithful home guard, willing to do your bit? If you are not economizing as circumstances demand, then it is your duty to heed the advice given by the food administrator.

It is also suggested by Food Administrator Peden that preachers of all denominations make the subject of their sermon on Sunday, October 28th, "Food Conservation" in order that the people may better understand the purpose of the campaign beginning that day and continuing for one week.

The following named committees, will please direct the work in their respective communities, reporting so far as is possible, the number of pledges obtained in each community:

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry up Any Corn or Callus so it Lifts Right Off.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without a bit of pain.

A quarter of an ounce of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this. —Adv.

BRITAIN FACES UNIQUE PROBLEM AFTER WAR

(By Associated Press)
London, Sept. 25.—After the great war Great Britain will have to face a competitive struggle unlike in history," writes the editor of the British review Engineering in his annual discussion of trade conditions of England in the after-war trade rivalry saying:

"On the one side Germany, well equipped, highly organized, forced by defeat and debt to desperate exertions, spurred by poverty to accept small profits, anything to regain her markets and her ruined credit. Unscrupulous and grasping methods will be backed by the German government and financed as never before. Germany has only to pick up the broken threads of foreign connections to replenish the home demands and thus secure the output necessary fully to occupy her large specialized mechanical equipment.

"On the other side we shall find the United States, better equipped and staffed than any other industrial country, overflowing with money, with the highest credit, and a big home market, and other conditions essential to low cost production.

Great Britain's distorted industries, flanked by abnormal power and starved of desperation, demand, first of all definite and powerful government protection. Unless this can be secured her industrial leaders will have little encouragement to undertake a program of improvement and reform necessary to put her on equal footing with America and Germany. There is evidence that this will be insisted upon and secured."

Bryan Boy Mentioned in Official Cables

"I am all puffed up over our boy," said I. S. Fisher today.

The reason therefor is found in official dispatches to the navy department by Vice-Admiral Sims commanding the fleet in British waters, giving an account of submarine attack on the torpedo boat destroyer Cassin, a week ago, and closed with commendation for several officers, among them Frank Ruell Fisher, chief machinist's mate, the son of whom Mr. Fisher speaks. The Cassin had sighted the submarine, and had been endeavoring to get a shot at it. Suddenly the commander saw a torpedo speeding through the water and with equal suddenness he gave an order that enabled the Cassin to escape a full blow amidships. As it happened one engine was put out of commission, but the boat remained afloat and fired several shots at the submarine. Later she made her way into port, but Mr. Fisher and other machinists made temporary repairs that enabled her to do so. His work is in the engine room and he knows nothing of what is going on above, and must to a certain extent work in the dark. Naval vessels are so constructed that they will remain afloat although one or two portions of the hull may be torn away.

Steep Hollow

Steep Hollow, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Richardson, together with about twenty-five of the young folks formed an exploring party to the Blanche L. oil field Sunday afternoon. Incidentally the return trip included a round of all the persimmon trees within a radius of half a mile.

Several of our progressive farmers have already dug their sweet potatoes and while the yield is not a record breaker by any means, it is better than expected, as it was thought there would not be seed enough for another year. They find, however, that there will not only be seed in plenty but some for home consumption besides.

Brazos county seems to be "holding its own," at the State Fair as the latest report from the club girls states that their exhibits have already won several prizes.

Misses Essie Shealy and Bessie Morgan, Mesdames Cloud, Saxon and Morgan of Reliance were among the Red Cross workers this week. They became quite efficient in this line of work.

Mrs. T. A. Godsoe and children of Beaumont are visiting Mrs. Godsoe's parents, J. W. and Mrs. Mathis. Later she will join Mr. Godsoe in Houston, where he has accepted a position as pastor.

Miss Willie Weedon is in the Bryan hospital, where she has undergone an operation for appendicitis. We hope she will soon recover.

Reliance

Reliance, Oct. 24.—Misses Bessie Morgan and Essie Shealey have just returned from Crosby.

Prof. G. R. Varner and Prof. W. Gilpin spent the week-end at the Dallas fair. Mrs. A. Varner, Misses Ruth Sims, Myrtle Thomas and Pernie Moore of Gause, Texas, joined Messrs. Varner and Gilpin at Fort Worth.

The young people enjoyed themselves very much at the entertainment Friday night given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Boliver Lloyd.

Messrs. Chas. H. Tabor, Clyde Gregg, J. W. Tabor and Roscoe Nole of Bryan spent the week-end here.

Quite a number of young people from Steep Hollow, Kurten and Independence came to singing Sunday afternoon.

Miss Jessie Mathis is visiting relatives in Bryan this week.

Robert N. Smith spent Sunday at Independence. We all wonder what is so attractive there.

Miss Artie Smith spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith.

C. C. Morgan, J. C. Cloud and C. N. Shealy attended the Baptist Association at New Baden.

The ladies of St. Elizabeth Society and members of the Bohemian National Alliance met together at the S. P. J. S. T. Hall on Sept. 2nd and organized a Bohemian Red Cross Auxiliary Society.

Frank Elzner acted as temporary president and Frank Zubik as secretary. Upon explanation by some members why they met, election of permanent officers followed. Mrs. W. J. Hajek was chosen president; Mrs. Frank Kadanka, vice president; Mrs. John Habarta, secretary, and Mrs. Marie Valouch, treasurer.

The president appointed the following committee on securing new members: Miss Julia Parizek, Bryan; Miss Mary Mina, and Mr. Simon Nemec, Smetana; Mr. Frank Elzner, Wheeler, and Mr. John Krenek, College.

Following are the members who have joined, each paying $1.00:

Mrs. W. J. Hajek, Mrs. Marie Valouch, Mrs. Albin Kadanka, Mrs. Marie Valtuber, Mrs. Veronica Operstny, Miss Marie Vymola, Mrs. Anna Holubec, Mrs. Kristina Stasny, Mrs. Josephine Habarta, Mrs. John Zak, Mrs. Francis Vymola, Mrs. Josephine Vymola, Mrs. Marie Lauer, Mrs. Marie Elzner, Mrs. Anna Havel, Mrs. Marie Wolf, Mrs. Marie Nemec, Mrs. Agnes Wolf, Mrs. Marie Nemec, Mrs. Annie Brandesky, Mrs. Florentine Rygal, Mrs. Agnes Cesak, Mrs. Marie H. Simon, Mrs. Marie Zak, Mrs. Annie Luza, Mrs. Marie Milberger, Miss Marta Holubec, Miss Adela Jarma, Mrs. Joe Pasler, Mrs. Josephine Kohout, Mrs. Victoria Nemec, Mrs. Kristina Nemec, Mrs. Marie Svartz, Mrs. Rozie Hanus, Mrs. Marie J. Rosprim, Mrs. Marie Hebron, Mrs. Marie Berger, Mrs. J. A. Zemanek, Mrs. Emilie Krenek, Mrs. Joe Zak, Mrs. Marie Holubec, Mrs. J. Fleken, Mrs. Julie Galinec, Mrs. Albin Regmund, Mrs. J. Disa, Mrs. Adolf Wymola, Mrs. Marie Habarta, Miss Stevie Blazek, Miss Andela Wymola, Miss Agnes Valenta, Miss Julia Parizek, Mrs. L. J. Krenek, Mrs. J. J. Krenek, Mrs. Steve Nemec, Mrs. Johanna Kowas, Mrs. K. Muzokova, Mrs. Josephine Mana, Mrs. August Merka, Mr. Charlie Sosolik, Mr. Joe Makash, Mr. Frank Valouch, Mr. Charlie Svartz, Mr. John Fridel, Mr. Jakob Luza, Mr. Joe Zemanek, Mr. Ferdinand Rosprim, Mr. Frank Operstny, Mr. Frank Brandesky, Mr. Frank Horak, Mr. Jakob Nemec, Mr. Blazek Cesak, Mr. J. A. Zemanek, Mr. George Nedbalek, Mr. Joe Zak, Mr. J. J. Nemec, Mr. F. Kohout, Mr. J. Lisa, Mr. L. Zavoada, Mr. Egnersdorf, Mr. Adolf Wymola, Mr. Stany Wymola, Mr. Joe Wymola, Mr. Frank Stasny, Mr. Jake Sramek, Mr. W. J. Hajek, Mr. W. S. Hajek, Mr. A. J. Hajek, Mr. Steve Nemec, Mr. Joe Sosolik, Mr. Frank Zubik, Mr. Joe Turek, Mr. Victor Boreksy, Mr. Simon Nemec, Mr. Frank Mana, Mr. Bartholomew Valouch, Mr. Frank Elzner, Mr. J. J. The Bohemian National Alliance (from July 4th) gave $50.00; Club P. A. K. Smetana, $50.00, and C. S. P. S. Lodge, $10.00, bringing the total to $110.00.

The total membership of this auxiliary is 108 and there is no reason why this auxiliary of this county should not have 200 members at least. It only costs $1.00 to join and the officers feel sure all will feel it a small sum to give when 87 cents of every dollar is actually spent on the soldiers, to alleviate distress and suffering. The high per cent is made possible by our high-up Red Cross executives working without pay. Hon. Wm. H. Taft, Miss Boardman and others.

Every country has its Red Cross nations. It is a great mistake to get the idea that the Red Cross is of a certain religious belief. It is of a secular nature. Its object is to alleviate suffering. When the Bohemian people of this county learn the truth of need of their help they will see a member of this committee and join at once. If you don't have a son in France in the near future you will have a neighbor. You will gladly give a dollar to help him from being bandaged with straw and newspapers.

Further progress of this auxiliary will be announced in this paper at intervals.

Oil Land Leases.

J. P. Vandiver and wife, have leased to J. D. Adams, three tracts of land for a year for the purpose of sinking oil wells. The first tract is 51 3/5 acres, the second tract is 156 acres and the third, 50 acres of the A. Lee, Sr. survey.

TEXAS BOYS IN NORTH COLD AND URGENTLY NEED KNITTED THINGS

Houston, Texas, Oct. 24, 1917; Mrs. Albert Buchanan, Bryan, Texas.

Our Texas boys in New Jersey need 450 helmets, socks and abdominal bands. Will you organize knitting detachments at once and pledge a certain number? While we delay they suffer. Wire, my expense.

MRS. W. B. SHARP.

The above telegram is self-explanatory, and appeals to every patriotic Texas woman to respond immediately.

Upon receipt to the message Mrs. Buchanan went to work in earnest, and in a few hours telegraphed Mrs. Sharp that Bryan would send 25 helmets, 25 pairs of socks and 25 abdominal bands, and more if possible.

The Ladies Embroidery Club of this city volunteered to take up the work, and will begin knitting by Friday of this week.

The women of Bryan and Brazos county are urged to come to the rescue of our Texas boys, and help to get these garments off at the earliest possible date.

All who will volunteer to knit, may get the yarn by phoning Mrs. M. B. Parker. Don't wait, phone as soon as you read this, for, in the words of the telegram: "while we delay they suffer."

Many of our own Brazos county boys are among the number; we must not fail.

The yarn at Red Cross headquarters is almost exhausted right now, and before another shipment is received by the Bryan Chapter, this special order for knitting can be finished.

Let every woman and every girl in Brazos county do her "bit," in this urgent call for our own boys.

MRS. MARTHA ALLEN GAINED 33 POUNDS

HAD RHEUMATISM SO BAD COULD HARDLY WALK—TANLAC OVERCOMES IT.

One of the most interesting and remarkable statements yet made in connection with Tanlac, the medicine that is accomplishing such surprising and gratifying results, was given by Mrs. Martha Allen when the Tanlac representative called by special invitation at her residence, 1820 North Pearl street, Dallas, recently. In relating her experience with Tanlac, Mrs. Allen said:

"When I began taking Tanlac last July a year ago, I had been suffering for some time with an attack of rheumatism which involved both my lower limbs and feet. The pain was so intense I just can't describe it. I could scarcely walk and had to just hobble around. I was extremely nervous and suffered so I could hardly sleep at all and many a night I would roll and tumble all night long. Liniment and medicines failed to do me any good. I lost flesh until I weighed only a little more than a hundred pounds and suffered almost continually.

"I then bought Tanlac, as I had been reading about it for some time, and after taking a few bottles regularly, every sign of the rheumatism left me. Tanlac not only restored my health, but when I weighed I had gained thirty-three pounds which put me back to my regular weight. That was a year and a half ago and I have been perfectly sound and well ever since until this past January when I had an attack of grippe. I lost my appetite, became very nervous and also fell off some in weight.

"Well, I bought Tanlac again and after using it a few days, my grippe, indigestion and nervousness were all gone and I also regained the little weight I had lost. I eat anything I want now, I can enjoy a large steak without it hurting me a particle and I don't suffer from the gas or any other bad feelings after my meals. I sleep fine and restful and I believe I feel better now than I have ever felt. I will always praise Tanlac, and why shouldn't I? I tried everything else and found no relief until I took it, and my case shows Tanlac not only brings relief but its work is lasting. Now, I don't like publicity, but I feel that I am only doing my duty to suffering humanity in making this statement. My phone number is Main 3089 and if anyone will call me, I will take pleasure in telling them about what a grand medicine I have found Tanlac to be and the good health I have enjoyed ever since I took it."

Tanlac is sold in Bryan by N. A. Stewart, in Wellborn by B. R. Royder, in Edge by Moore & Payne, in Allen Farm by Terrell Bros. and in Tabor by J. K. Presnal.

WAREHOUSES COMING UNDER STATE LAW

(By Associated Press)
Austin, Texas, Oct. 23.—Many farmers' union warehouses throughout the state are reorganizing and amending their charters in order that they may come under the provisions of the new warehouse and warehouse law, passed by the second called session of the legislature, and which only recently became effective.

This gives such warehouses the benefit of strict state supervision, according to Warehouse Commissioner Weinert, and makes the receipts of such reorganized warehouses negotiable anywhere offered and preferential paper at all Federal Reserve banks.

Another advantage is that warehouses under state supervision get an insurance rate of $2.10 on the $100 of property insured, while the rate is $3.10 for warehouses not under state supervision.

BRAZOS COUNTY'S PART IN WORK OF SAVING FOOD

County Chairman Beason Sets Forth Great Importance of Food Conservation and Gives Organized Forces for Work in Brazos County.

To the people of Brazos county: We are told that the whole world is short in food stocks and that entire communities in Europe are starving to death. To endeavor to relieve this situation at home and abroad is the duty of every American whose soul is affire with the spirit of freedom.

Not only is the supreme test of our patriotism upon us, but our liberties, our fortunes, our homes, and even our lives, hang in the balance awaiting our efforts to life high and safe the banner of justice and right into victory's column. "The time has come to conquer or submit." For the liberty-loving American there is no such alternative as submission to autocracy.

Our Food Administrator is calling upon the 3551 families in Brazos county to sign a card pledging co-operation in food conservation in the home, in so far as circumstances permit. For this there are no dues. The plan is simply to enlist the co-operation of every family in food conservation. Surely no one could be indifferent to ward such a plan. If you are a faithful home guard, willing to do your bit, if you are not economizing as circumstances demand, then it is your duty to heed the advice given by the food administrator.

It is also suggested by Food Administrator Peden that preachers of all denominations make the subject of their sermon on Sunday, October 28th, "Food Conservation" in order that the people may better understand the purpose of the campaign beginning that day and continuing for one week.

The following named committees will please direct the work in their respective communities, reporting so far as is possible, the number of pledges obtained in each community:

Bryan—Mrs. J. T. Hanway, Mrs. A. J. Buchanan, E. J. Fountain and F. L. Henderson.

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry up Any Corn or Callus so it Lifts Right Off.

You corn-pested men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without a bit of pain.

A quarter of an ounce of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.—Adv.

BRITAIN FACES PROBLEM AFTER WAR

(By Associated Press) London, Sept. 25.—"After the great war Great Britain will have to face a competitive struggle unlike in history," writes the editor of the British review Engineering in his annual discussion of trade conditions of England in the after-war trade rivalry saying:

"On the one side Germany, well equipped, highly organized, forced by defeat and debt to desperate exertions, spurred by poverty to accept small profits, anything to regain her markets and her ruined credit. Unscrupulous and grasping methods will be backed by the German government and financed as never before. Germany has only to pick up the broken threads of foreign connections to supplant the home demands and thus secure the output necessary fully to occupy her large specialized mechanical equipment."

"On the other side we shall find the United States, better equipped and staffed than any other industrial country, overflowing with money, with the highest credit, and a big home market, and other conditions essential to low cost production. Great Britain's distorted industries, flanked by abnormal power and starved of demand, first of all definite and powerful government protection. Unless this can be secured her industrial leaders will have little encouragement to undertake a program of improvement and reform necessary to put her on equal footing with America and Germany. There is evidence that this will be insisted upon and secured."

Bryan Boy Mentioned in Official Cables

"I am all puffed up over our boy," said I. S. Fisher today.

The reason therefor is found in official dispatches to the navy department by Vice-Admiral Sims, commanding the fleet in British waters, giving an account of submarine attack on the torpedo boat destroyer Cassin, a week ago, and closed with commendation for several officers, among them Frank Ruell Fisher, chief machinist's mate, the son of whom Mr. Fisher speaks. The Cassin had sighted the submarine, and had been endeavoring to get a shot at it. Suddenly the commander saw a torpedo speeding through the water and with equal suddenness he gave an order that enabled the Cassin to escape a full blow amidships. As it happened one engine was put out of commission, but the boat remained afloat and fired several shots at the submarine. Later she made her way into port, but Mr. Fisher and other machinists made temporary repairs that enabled her to do so. His work in the engine room and above, and must to what is going on and knows nothing of naval vessels are so constructed that they will remain afloat although one or two portions of the hull may be torn away.

Steep Hollow

Steep Hollow, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Richardson, together with about twenty-five of the young folks formed an exploring party to the Blanche L. oil field Sunday afternoon. Incidentally the return trip included a round of all the persimmon trees within a radius of half a mile.

Several of our progressive farmers have already dug their sweet potatoes and while the yield is not a record breaker by any means, it is better than expected, as it was thought there would not be seed enough for another year. They find, however, that there will not only be seed in plenty but some for home consumption besides.

Brazos county seems to be "holding its own," at the State Fair as the latest report from the club girls states that their exhibits have already won several prizes.

Misses Essie Shealy and Bessie Morgan, Mesdames Cloud, Saxon and Morgan of Reliance were among the Red Cross workers this week. They became quite efficient in this line of work.

Mrs. T. A. Godsoe and children of Beaumont are visiting Mrs. Godsoe's parents, J. W. and Mrs. Mathis. Later she will join Mr. Godsoe in Houston, where he has accepted a position as pastor.

Miss Willie Weedon is in the Bryan hospital, where she has undergone an operation for appendicitis. We hope she will soon recover.

Reliance

Reliance, Oct. 24.—Misses Bessie Morgan and Essie Shealey have just returned from Crosby.

Prof. G. R. Varner and Prof. W. Gilpin spent the week-end at the Dallas fair. Mrs. A. Varner, Misses Ruth Sims, Myrtle Thomas and Fern Moore of Gause, Texas, joined Messrs. Varner and Gilpin at Port Worth.

The young people enjoyed themselves very much at the entertainment Friday night given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Boliver Lloyd.

Messrs. Chas. H. Tabor, Clyde Gregg, J. W. Tabor and Roscoe Nole of Bryan spent the week-end here.

Miss Artie Smith spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith.

C. C. Morgan, J. C. Cloud and C. N. Shealy attended the Baptist Association at New Baden.

OCTOBER 28 DAY OF PRAYER FOR SUCCESS OF AMERICAN ARMS

(By Associated Press) Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today by proclamation declared Sunday, October 28, a day for prayer for the success of American arms, in accordance with a recent resolution of congress.

BOHEMIAN RED CROSS AUXILIARY ORGANIZED

The ladies of St. Elizabeth Society and members of the Bohemian National Alliance met together at the S. P. S. T. Hall on Sept. 2nd and organized a Bohemian Red Cross Auxiliary Society.

Frank Elzner acted as temporary president and Frank Zubik as secretary. Upon explanation by some members why they met, election of permanent officers followed. Mrs. W. J. Hajek was chosen president; Mrs. Frank Kadanka, vice president; Mrs. John Habarta, secretary; and Mrs. Marie Valouch, treasurer.

The president appointed the following committee on securing new members: Miss Julia Parizek, Bryan; Miss Mary Mina, and Mr. Simon Nemes, Smetana; Mr. Frank Elzner, Wheelock, and Mr. John Krenek, College.

Following are the members who have joined, each paying $1.:

Simon, Mrs. Marie Zak, Mrs. Annie Luza, Mrs. Marie Milberger, Miss Marta Holubec, Miss Adela Jarman, Mrs. Joe Pasler, Mrs. Josephine Kohout, Mrs. Victoria Nemes, Mrs. Kristina Nemes, Mrs. Marie Svartz, Mrs. Rozie Hanus, Mrs. Marie J. Rosprim, Mrs. Marie Hebron, Mrs. Marie Berger, Mrs. J. A. Zemanek, Mrs. Emilie Krenek, Mrs. Joe Zak, Mrs. Marie Holubec, Mrs. J. Flekenstein, Mrs. Julie Galinec, Mrs. Albin Regmund, Mrs. J. Disa, Mrs. Adolf Vymola, Mrs. Marie Habarta, Miss Stevie Blazek, Miss Andela Vymola, Miss Agnes Valenta, Miss Julia Parizek, Mrs. L. J. Krenek, Mrs. J. J. Krenek, Mrs. Steve Nemes, Mrs. Johanna Kovas, Mrs. K. Muzokova, Mrs. Josephine Mana, Mrs. August Merka; Mr. Frank Valouch, Mr. Joe Makash, Mrs. Frank Valouch, Mr. Jakob Luza, Mr. Joe Zemanek, Mr. Ferdinand Rosprim, Mr. Frank Operstny, Mr. Frank Brandesky, Mr. Frank Horak, Mr. Jakob Nemes, Mr. Blazek Cesak, Mr. J. A. Zemanek, Mr. George Nedbaek, Mr. Joe Zak, Mr. J. J. Nemes, Mr. P. Kohout, Mr. J. Lisa, Mr. L. Zavodna, Mr. Egnersdorf, Mr. Adolf Vymola, Mr. Stany Wymola, Mr. Joe Wymola, Mr. Frank Stasny, Mr. Jake Sramek, Mr. W. J. Hajek, Mr. W. S. Hajek, Mr. A. J. Hajek, Mr. Steve Nemes, Mr. J. J. J. Krenek, Mr. Joe Martus, Mr. John Hobarta, Mr. Joe Holik, Mr. Joe Maly, Mr. T. J. Regmund, Mr. John Homola, Mr. Fritz Blazek.

The Bohemian National Alliance (from July 4) gave $50.00; Club P. A. K. Smetana, $5.00, and C. S. P. S. Lodge, $10.00, bringing the total to $173.00.

The total membership of this auxiliary is 108 and there is no reason why this auxiliary of this county should not have 200 members at least. It only costs $1.00 to join and the officers feel sure all will feel it a small sum to give when 87 cents of your dollar is actually spent on the soldiers, to alleviate distress and suffering. The high per cent is made possible by our high up Red Cross executives working without pay, Hon. Wm. H. Taft, Miss Boardman and others.

Every country has its Red Cross with America far behind all other nations. It is a great mistake to get the idea that the Red Cross is of a sectarian. Its object is to alleviate suffering. When the Bohemian people of this county learn the truth of need of their help they will see a member of this committee and join at once. If you don't have a son in France in the near future you will give a dollar to help him from being bandaged with straw and newspapers.

Further progress of this auxiliary will be announced in this paper at intervals.

TEXAS BOYS IN NORTH COLD AND URGENTLY NEED KNITTED THINGS

Houston, Texas, Oct. 24, 1917. Mrs. Albert Buchanan, Bryan, Texas.

Our Texas boys in New Jersey need 450 helmets, socks and abdominal bands. Will you organize knitting detachments at once and pledge a certain number? While we delay they suffer. Wire, my expense.

MRS. W. B. SHARP.

The above telegram is self-explanatory, and appeals to every patriotic Texas woman to respond immediately.

Upon receipt to the message Mrs. Buchanan went to work in earnest, and in a few hours telegraphed Mrs. Sharp that Bryan would send 25 helmets, 25 pairs of socks and 25 abdominal bands, and more if possible.

The Ladies Embroidery Club of this city volunteered to take up the work, and will begin knitting by Friday of this week.

The women of Bryan and Prazos county are urged to come to the rescue of our Texas boys, and help to get these garments off at the earliest possible date.

All who will volunteer to knit, may get the yarn by phoning Mrs. M. B. Parker. Don't wait, phone as soon as you read this, for in the words of the telegram: "while we delay they suffer."

Many of our own Brazos county boys are among the number; we must not fail.

The yarn at Red Cross headquarters is almost exhausted right now, and before another shipment is received by the Bryan Chapter, this special order for knitting can be finished.

Let every woman and every girl in Brazos county do her "bit," in this urgent call for our own boys.

MRS. MARTHA ALLEN GAINED 33 POUNDS

HAD RHEUMATISM SO BAD COULD HARDLY WALK—TANLAC OVERCAME IT.

One of the most interesting and remarkable statements yet made in connection with Tanlac, the medicine that is accomplishing such surprising and gratifying results, was given by Mrs. Martha Allen when the Tanlac representative called by special invitation at her residence, 1820 North Pearl street, Dallas, recently. In relating her experience with Tanlac, Mrs. Allen said:

"When I began taking Tanlac last July a year ago, I had been suffering for some time with an attack of rheumatism which involved both my lower limbs and feet. The pain was so intense I just can't describe it. I could scarcely walk and had to just hobble around. I was extremely nervous and suffered so I could hardly sleep at all and many a night I would roll and tumble all night long. Limbs and medicines failed to do anything good. I lost flesh until I weighed only a little more than a hundred pounds and suffered almost continually."

"I then bought Tanlac, as I had been reading about it for some time, and after taking a few bottles regularly, every sign of the rheumatism left me. Tanlac not only restored my health, but when I weighed I was delighted to find that I had gained thirty-three pounds which put me back to my regular weight. That was a year and a half ago and I have been perfectly sound and well ever since until this past January when I had an attack of grippe. I lost my appetite, became very nervous and also fell off some in weight."

"Well, I bought Tanlac again and after using it a few days, my grippe, indigestion and nervousness were all gone and I also regained the little weight I had lost. I eat anything I want now, I can enjoy a large steak without it hurting me a particle and I don't suffer from the gas or any other bad feelings after my meals. I sleep fine and restful and I believe I feel better now than I have ever felt. I will always praise Tanlac, and why shouldn't I? I tried everything else and found no relief until I took it and my case shows Tanlac not only brings relief but its work is lasting. Now, I don't like publicity, but I feel that I am only doing my duty to suffering humanity in making this statement. My phone number is Main 3089 and if anyone will call me, I will take pleasure in telling them about what a grand medicine I have found. Tanlac to be and the good health I have enjoyed ever since I took it."

Tanlac is sold in Bryan by N. A. Stewart, in Wellborn by J. B. Royder, in Edge by Moore & Payne, in Allen Farm by Terrell Bros. and in Tabor by J. K. Presnal.

WAREHOUSES COMING UNDER STATE LAW

(By Associated Press) Austin, Texas, Oct. 23.—Many farmers' union warehouses throughout the state are reorganizing and amending their charters in order that they may come under the provisions of the new law, and the second called session of the legislature, and which only recently became effective.

This gives such warehouses the benefit of strict state supervision, according to Warehouse Commissioner Welner, and makes the receipts of such reorganized warehouses negotiable anywhere offered and preferential paper at all Federal Reserve banks.

Another advantage is that warehouses under state supervision get an insurance rate of $2.10 on the $100 of property insured, while the rate is $3.10 for warehouses not under state supervision.

MAN WOUNDED IN SALOON FIGHT.

Somerville, Texas, Oct. 23.—Saturday night at Clay, 12 miles east of here, an altercation occurred in a saloon in which W. E. Gandy was shot and seriously wounded. The bullet of a large calibre pistol entered his leg above the knee and the bone was badly shattered. An ambulance was called from Brenham, and the wounded man was taken there for treatment. Gandy is well known at Wilbourn.—Houston Chronicle.

W. E. (Ernest) Gandy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Berry Gandy of Rock Prairie and was raised in this county. He is well known in Bryan and has many friends here who deeply regret to learn of his misfortune. The Eagle learned this morning that his wound was such as to require the amputation of his leg.

C. L. Beason, county farm demonstration agent, has been appointed county chairman in the Hoover food control movement, and is working directly under the chairman for Texas, Mr. E. A. Peden of Houston. Mr. Beason is now organizing his forces for the county and will make a determined effort to place Brazos county in the forefront of Texas counties in the splendid work of food conservation. It is a work of great importance and all are agreed that food takes first place in the heroic work of winning the war.
